North Korea as a Supplier of Missiles and Missile Technologies

North Korea has progressed from producing SCUD missiles to establishing a broad based missile industry, developing and producing a variety of missiles both for its own use and for export. These missiles are capable of carrying weapons of mass destruction.

The North Korean missile program is an expansive effort with a series of longer range systems currently under development.

North Korea's Role as a Supplier

North Korea is an active supplier of missiles and related production technology and has provided SCUD missiles to countries in the Middle East.
